SHE FEARED THE OUTCOME OF AN INVESTIGATION.

Signed by Mrs. Margery Hayes-John W. Hinde Threatened to Write to Her Home About It.

Miss Eva Idol, a niece of Daniel Idol, editor of the Cass County Ledger, and a granddaughter of B. F. Idol, a wealthy citizen of Union Star, Mo., was found in a dying condition yesterday in Independ- Idelia, M. Breese Sues Her Husband ence, by her landlady, Mrs. M. Hutchings. The young woman was accustomed to rising early, and when she did not appear at the breakfast table yesterday morning Mrs. Hutchings went to her room. A knock on the door failed to bring a reponse and the door was forced. Miss Idol was found lying on a couch near an open window, breathing heavily. side on a stand was an open Bible, and near the Bible was an empty laudanum

Medical aid was summoned, but the drug had accomplished what was intended, and the young woman breathed her last at 11

Miss Idol came to Independence last Saturday, and claimed that she was canvassing for a dressmaking chart. Mrs. Hutchings knew Dan Idel, of Belton, Mo., and as Mr. Idol had befriended the Hutchings family at one time, the young woman was welcomed. She told of her relationship From the New York Life Insurwith Dan Idol, and also stated that she owned a large furniture store at Pittsburg. Kas. She was being paid $75 a month and expenses, so she said, for canvassing, and was a money lender. The statements as to her wealth were not credited by Mrs. Hutchings, as the young woman seemed

At the boarding house Miss Idol made the acquaintance of Mrs. Margery Lucky, for whom a guardian was appointed ten days ago. Mrs. Lucky has never been able to take care of herself or her money.

A friendship sprang up between the two shortly after Miss Idol's appe. rance at the boarding house. Miss Idol went out walking with Mrs. Lucky frequently, and they seemed quite good friends. During the day Miss Idol would go out canvassing. Wednesday last a note, signed by Mrs. Margery Hayes, dated July 16, 1898, was filed in the probate clerk's office. The note was presented to her guardian, John W. Hinde. Miss Idol called on Mr. Hinde and demanded payment, claiming that the note was given by Mrs. Lucky when she was the widow of Richard or "Boss" Hayes. Mrs. Lucky explained to her guardian that she gave the note to Miss Idol in 1898, when she lived at Lee's Summit, and was for money she needed while shopping at Belton, Mo. When questioned out Belton, Mrs. Lucky could not tell whether Belton was in Missouri or Kansas, and made no attempt to frame an excuse for her shopping at Belton. Then Lucky was confronted with the fact when the note for $100 was given she long since ceased to mourn for her husband and had married Robert Lucky.

This was too much for Mrs. Lucky and she then confessed that the note was not for value received, but was of recent date. Mrs. Lucky then stated that Miss Idol had concocted a scheme to get money from the estate. With the 3100, of which Mrs. Lucky was to get half, the two would go away to Wyoming and buy a hotel. The scheme suited Mrs. Lucky and she readily signed the note.

Officers searched Miss Idol's room, hoping to find some letter explaining the cause of the act, but none was found.

Daniel Idol was notified of the death of his niece and telegraphed orders that the hody be taken care of. A telegram was also received from B. F. Idol, the grandfather, stating that he had started and to give all possible attention to the remains of the young woman. Miss Idol's parents live in Southern Missouri.

MYSTERIOUS MEETING OF THE AS-SOCIATION AT THE BALTIMORE.

Doors Were Locked and Members Reticent-Said They Were Merely Discussing Equitable and Minimum Rates.

Twenty-five members of the Western White Lime Association, which includes the states of Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma Indian Territory, Texas and Nebraska were in executive session at the Baltimore hotel yesterday. The meeting will adjourn to-night.

Never was there more secrecy about a meeting. Ten days ago the manufacturers of cement and lime notified the trade that all quotations had been withdrawn. The meeting here yesterday leads the retailers to believe that a trust or combine is now being formed, and that prices will be ma-

Not only were the doors of the Baltimore hotel clubroom locked, but any amount of rapping would bring no response. The par ties refused to divulge their names or to name the firms which they represented. W. B. Hill, of Kansas City, when seen yesterday, said: "We do not want any nention in the papers; we have not ac complished anything, and there is nothing o tell. If we gave out any information the retailers would think we were forming the retailers would think we were forming a trust, and we are not. We don't want the trade to know what we are doing. The fact is, that we are here to get equitable freight rates, and minimum weights. The gentlemen here to-day just met to interchange views on the best method of manifacturing cement and to try to get better treatment from the railroads."

While the members will not acknowledge it, there is every reason to believe that a combine has been organized and that it will be perfected to-day.

TO-DAY-SATURDAY

-We would like every person who has a dollar, more or less, to spend, to come to the Store and see if we can't save you money on your purchases. We have received hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of new merchandise in the last thirty days, all bought before the advance, which has been going on for some time. We intend to sell you early autumn and fall goods as low or lower than ever before. One week from Monday schools open in this city-there will be about 25,000 children going to school. Now if the mother and father of each of these 25,000 children would make out a list of what they need, and come to the Store to-day, we believe we could save them many pennies on their purchase, no matter how small that purchase may be. We have one of the largest and best shoe departments in this city. Special lines are offered at low prices for to-day. We have a large clothing department for boys, and the girls' ready-made department is larger than ever before with new, nobby, bright things. In the Millinery Dept. you surely can find the popular headwear at popular prices. School supplies were bought at about half price last spring from the L. H. Fielding stock, and will be offered here to-day at about half the price asked around town. Then the men can come and buy shirts to-day for 89c, worth up to $1.50, and men's shoes are the best ever sold for the money. We can't imagine how any man or woman can part with their money till they have at least investigated what we have to offer. We can outfit you with good, dependable merchandise at the lowest prices we have known for some seasons. Now we don't know what to say that will further interest you. We want you to trade here, and will do our part if you will only come to the Store.

That's the way the Nebraska feels to-day, thank you, new. We've done wonders lately; almost entirely rebuilt our store over on the inside, remodeled it from top to bottom, enlarged the selling space of several departments and added the new department devoted to "clothing-store clothes for women." We're going to have a birthday party all day to-day, and we want you to come to it. We want you to come and look at the new goods in every department, get a better idea of this Nebraska than you've ever had before, and more particularly get an idea of the class of goods and the prices they're sold at that have built this store to its present magnitude in six years, the first few of the six during the most panicky times that Kansas City has ever had or ever can have. While we have no sensational or exaggerated things to offer you, it will pay the women folks to look at the new worsted suits at $5.00, with silk lined jackets; the new black taffeta waists at $2.50 (the bargain day $4.98 kind); the new golf capes at $5.00 and $7.50; the new shoes at $1.50, $1.90 and $2.50-and while you look bear in mind that these prices are established for keeps; they won't go up or down. The men are invited to look at the new suits at $5.00 to $221; the new neckwear in all the best effects, shapes and makes at 35c; and the mothers will spend profitable time and money looking at boys' knee pant suits at $1.50 to $4.50.
